Why FIFA20 Which isn't wrong. I just don't enjoy the new randomised mode much. I'd rather it just be the usual. It seems the developers are all about change all the time, but it's a bit weird that they've gone all-in on this randomised mode. I just don't like it. I just feel it's going to effect the game negatively more than it's going to help. Also nothing like full end-to-end edges. I don't enjoy trying to dribble it to be honest. This has been raised before, it seems they have no intention of removing the randomised mode. Ensure you use a memory card that you trust; anything less than 32 GB is not a reliable option and you will run into issues trying to save the game. Copy the full content of the save folder (if's the first one) to a safe folder. Install instructions: Download the game and use the auto installer. Mount your flash drive, preferably larger than the 2 GB, due to the size of the install. Run the installer from the flash drive. Select Continue, because you want to run from the flash drive. Next, follow the instructions to install the game, select "Install for Uplay" and wait until the process is finished. Create a legal account and play the game. Note: The installer may prompt you to sign-in with your Uplay account, this will work but you can use the Uplay Account if you wish. Note2: If you are prompted with the "match found" message at the startup screen, exit the game and then restart it. Uninstall Connect your flash drive to your computer. Run the Steam Desktop Launcher that's attached to the program (if you don't know how to run it, please refer to this document.) Right click on the left side of the Steam icon and select "Edit shortcut" Click on the "Advanced" tab, which will be the first tab that will be visible in the window Right click on the install for steam.bat in the edit window and select "Run as administrator" Insert the flash drive into the USB drive tray. Click the right mouse button over the shortcut and select "Delete" or "Remove" Click on the OK button to confirm the delete. Exit Steam and
